
Abstract of the Disclosure

B² A composition that contains a component A containing one or more methyl or methylene donors, a component B containing one or more methyl transporters, and a component C containing one or more bioflavanoids. The composition is well-suited to the treatment and prevention of transmethylation disorders, preferably cardiovascular diseases, for example, atherogenic and thrombogenic diseases.
